AT FOX'S BILLIARD LOUNGE

the crack of the cue for the "break" resounds throughout the industrial, chic setting. Bartenders awe guests with the ease in which they juggle and balance liquor bottles in precarious positions. Food is consumed and drinks are enjoyed. The ultra-chic Fox's Billiard Lounge on Newport Avenue can cure anyone's happy hour blues.

"Here, our motto is 'every hour is happy hour,'" says owner Marshall Fox. His place is not your regular pool hall. This billiard lounge has style and flair—flair bartending, that is.

A simple drink order, such as the tasty Rose Petal Martini, escalates into a blur of liquor bottles sailing through the air. Between pours and ice being tossed hither and yon, cocktail shakers are shimmed and shaken in a series of impressive moves until the end result emerges: a perfectly blended cocktail. Fox's "flair" bartenders are skilled mixologists and put on a great show. The oversized bar area gives the bottle-slinging pros room to move in continual motion.

Seasoned business owner and Bend native, Marshall Fox has created an upscale pool hall for guests of all legal ages. With great insight into Bend's dynamics, Marshall created Fox's Billiard Lounge in Northwest Bend to bring something new to the neighborhood, to complement nearby businesses and strengthen the community.

A great menu of beverages and food, eight tournament-style billiard tables, flair bartending, sports viewing, an elegant lounge and a private VIP room greet guests. An "everything and anytime" five-dollar or less bar menu of both beverages and food is a testament to their motto.

Trained chefs work behind the scenes creating unique tasty bites, savory entrees and sweet-a-licious desserts. Gourmet and home-style cooking of Italian, Asian and American coexist on the same menu in complete harmony. House specialties include Kailua brie with walnut glaze, hot wok wings, beer cheese soup, chicken cranberry salad, three cheese macaroni and, of course, the good ole' cheeseburger. Desserts include tempura apple rings, fried Twinkies, red velvet ala mode and cinnamon beignets. Each Sunday you can also enjoy a great breakfast and free pool all day.

This venue is all about billiards; a place where people who take the sport seriously come to hone their skills and challenge their competitors. Billiards leagues play at all levels at dedicated times each week. Don't let this intimidate you—Fox's is a place for everyone to come and enjoy the game. ♣
